

Ulmus americana 'Jefferson' Jefferson American Elm

Native shade tree - own root. Expansive, vase-shaped canopy with arching limbs; dark green summer foliage. Adapted to a wide variety of soil conditions and ph. Selected from the Washington Mall by the National Park Service. Outstanding level of Dutch elm disease tolerance.

| |
|---|
| Category: Native |
| Hardiness: Zone 3 to 8 |
| Foliage: Dark Green |
| Bark: Grayish brown with ridges and fissures. |
| Winter color: Yellow fall color |
| Shape: Upright Vase |
| Mature Size: 40-65' tall by 30-50' wide |
| Growth Rate: Fast |
| Shade: Full Sun to Part Shade |
| Adaptability: Tough tree once established |
| Native Habitat: Eastern Half of Northern America |
| Uses: As a specimen, urban areas, parks, and Street tree |

