

Lagerstroemia (indica X fauriei) 'Natchez'

Natchez Crape Myrtle

Category: Deciduous, broadleaf, large summer flowering tree

Hardiness: Zone 6b-9

Foliage: Dark green

Blooms: Shades of red, yellow, & brown blooms in the spring

Bark: Smooth; tannish gray; exfoliates to reveal cinnamon bark

Winter color: Yellow, orange or red in the fall

Shape: Vase shaped, oval, round to irregular crown shape

Mature Size: 30-30ft tall by 15-20ft wide

Growth Rate: Moderate to fast

Shade: Full Sun

Adaptability: Very adaptable to urban growing sites, compacted soil, and crowded growing conditions.

Native Habitat: Hybrid between two species native to china, Japan and Korea

Uses: Large flowering tree, shade tree, planters, parking lot islands, specimen flowering tree